

McNAMARA, DYNAMITER, ENDS TERM IN PRISON

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., May 10.—John C. McNamara, former secretary of the Iron Workers' Union, convicted of dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles, gray and worn by his nine years and five months' imprisonment, was released from prison here yesterday. His release meant parting from his brother, James McNamara, serving a life sentence for the Los Angeles Times explosion. He said his first desire when free was to go to a motion picture show.

Opium Cashed in Lemon.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 10.—When the police raided the rooms of Yee Quock and Yee Ling yesterday for opium, they found only a small quantity in a pipe. A detective picked up a lemon from a table, discovered that it had been hollowed out and about $100 worth of opium secreted there. The Chinese were arrested.

You Can't Brush or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single skin and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

A CHRONICLE OF EVENTS WITH SIDE LIGHTS ON THE MEN AND WOMEN WHO MAKE UP WASHINGTON'S COMPLEX AND INTERESTING SOCIAL LIFE

DATES have been selected for the long-heralded series of garden parties at the White House to which society in Washington has been looking forward ever since the beginning of the President and Mrs. Harding's hospitable regime. The first will be given on Wednesday, May 18; the second on Thursday, May 26, and the last on Wednesday, June 1. Several hundred guests will be entertained on each occasion and the company will be made up of diplomatic official and resident society in happy proportion.

This afternoon Mrs. Harding will receive a large delegation of students from the various girls' schools in and about Washington. Her guests on this occasion will number between 700 and 1,000 and to each the First Lady will extend a personal greeting.

After a week of rain the very sight of the sunshine is inspiring and the perfection of the weather will contribute no little to the success of the two delightful at fresco fetes which are on the calendar for today.

This afternoon the National Press Club post of the American Legion is giving its May party at the Marine Barracks, with Vice President Coolidge as guest of honor, and the assemblage will be both brilliant and interesting.

The Vice President and Senator Frank B. Willis will speak, following a concert by the Marine Band, and later the Marine Corps Institute will give a parade. The National Press Club quartet will sing, and there will be dancing in the gymnasium and the ballroom. The parade ground will be devoted to the outdoor party.

The twice-postponed outdoor performance for which Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bell will be hosts will take place tonight at Twin Oaks and several hundred guests have been asked to see "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets" and "Aria da Capo" presented upon a stage erected over the charming lake which lies in the center of a national amphitheater promise to be memorable as performances in which two unusual plays are given with professional casts, costumes specially designed by a famous expert and an outdoor setting of great beauty. Miss Helen Robbins, who plays the principal roles in both dramas, has been the leading woman in John Barrymore's recent productions and will appear in "Aria da Capo." Miss Ann Ives in "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," two New York actors, Murray Bennett and Ulysses Graham, will be in the casts. Both plays have been directed by Bertam Block, who Washington knows as a sincere student of the drama, a playwright and a man clever in stagecraft. Mr. Block, who has been in New York recently, came to aid in the production of the two plays.

The Argentine ambassador and Mme. Le Breton will entertain at a small dance at the embassy this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lansing will entertain a distinguished company at dinner tonight, with the Chilean ambassador and Mme. Mathieu as honor guests. Mrs. Lansing will leave Washington on Friday for a fortnight's visit to her old home at Watertown, N. Y.

In June Mr. and Mrs. Lansing will go to Amherst to attend the centennial celebration at the college. Vice President Coolidge and Speaker Gillett, who are also Amherst graduates, expect to attend. The French ambassador, M. J. J. Jusserand, has been invited to be a speaker, and it promises to be a most interesting reunion.

ROUMANIAN PETE DAY.

The Roumanian Minister and Prince Bibesco will entertain at dinner tonight to celebrate the Roumanian national fete day—the anniversary of the proclamation of the kingdom of Rumania.

Former Ambassador and Mrs. James W. Gerard will sail for Europe on June 23 on the City of Paris. They had planned to sail on the Berengaria on June 2, but the steamer will not sail on account of the shortage of coal in England.

Miss Clarice Livingston, who has taken the role of Becky, in "The Little Princess" at Washington's Little Theater this week, does a clever piece of character work that shows much ability. She was much applauded last evening when she appeared as the slavey.

FETE AT TWIN OAKS.

Twin Oaks, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bell, presented a lovely picture yesterday afternoon when the fete and gymkhana for the benefit of Neighborhood House brought out society in gay attire. It was an ideal day, and the beautiful grounds were cleverly utilized for many varieties of amusement. At prettily decorated booths and tables all sorts of alluring articles were offered for sale, and the debutantes and young women who presided over them did such a thriving business that their stocks were exhausted long before sunset.

There were bridge tables at which the hostesses were Mrs. Robert Lansing, Mrs. Charles Denby, Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, Mrs. Joseph E. Thropp, Mrs. W. W. Gaillard, Mrs. Rosa Thompson, Mrs. David Porter, Mrs. Charles Gray Matthews and Mrs. Goldsborough Adams. Mme. LeBreton and Mrs. Mahlon Pitney presided at the tea table.

Dancing proved to be popular, for the Navy Yard band played and there was a platform on the lawn that was as smooth as any ballroom floor. Mr. and Mrs. Bell, who had lent their grounds for the entertainment, assisted in welcoming the hundreds of guests who included Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, Mrs. Scott Thropp, Mrs. Victor Kauffmann, Mrs. Grafton Minot, Mrs. Randolph Hagner, Miss Louise Delano, Miss Adeline Oxnard, Miss Antoinette Graves, Miss Alice Harding, Miss Marcia Chapin, Miss Peggy Martin, Miss Betty Grove, M. and Mme. Claude Langlais.

Refreshments were served from tables at the back of the spacious house, and as the guests lingered long after it began to grow dark the grounds were illuminated by Japanese lanterns.

Miss Elizabeth Howry, who has been visiting in New York, and Miss Mary Howry, who has been in California, are now at home with their parents, Judge and Mrs. Charles B. Howry.

TO HAVE BUSY SUMMER.

Col. John Temple Graves is to have a busy summer, for he is to go out on the Chautauqua circuit to preach the gospel of good government to the Chautauquans of the West. Colonel Graves delivered fifty-five lectures fifty-five consecutive nights last season and made such a success that this year he was offered a contract for 114 lectures to be delivered 114 consecutive nights. This was too much of an undertaking for even such an experienced campaigner as Colonel Graves, for he could not spare so much time to the platform, even if he had the physical endurance to talk for nearly five months without a single night off.

MME. CURIE DUE THURSDAY.

Mme. Curie, who will arrive in New York Thursday, will attend the convocation at Smith College on Friday, when the honorary degree of doctor of science will be conferred on her. She will be the guest of President Neilson at a dinner Friday evening.
